

ARTICLE 5

PROCEDURAL SUMMARY

The final section of this manual is a step-by-step explanation of each type of development request. Also included are checklists to assist in the review of each request.

It is important to note that the official procedural requirements are contained in the zoning and subdivision regulations themselves. This manual is a summary document intended to present the zoning and subdivision process in an easily understood format.